

MAKE YOUR BUSINESS OUR BUSINESS

With a Legal Review from Fishers

Are you feeling the pinch in the current financial climate?

In the current economic climate, it is more important than ever before to ensure that your business is protected against liability and financial loss.

A good starting point is to check that your contracts of employment, policies and procedures are up-to-date and compliant. This is particularly important if there are likely to be changes in the constitution of your business, for example redundancy, restructuring or mergers.

It is also vital to review your current contracts with customers and suppliers to ensure that you are not exposing yourself to risk.

Owners of business interests, whether as a sole trader, partnership or company need specific advice on how their death will impact on the business. We will be able to review with you:

- how Inheritance Tax may impact on your business interests if you were to die;
- what valuable Inheritance Tax reliefs are available for business interests and how such reliefs could best be used;
- your Will or explain how the Intestacy Rules will provide for the distribution of your estate and business interests; and
- consider how mental or physical disability may impact on your business interests.

Are you looking for added value from the commercial arrangements you enter in to?

At Fishers Solicitors we like to be able to give something back. Our commercially aware lawyers can review your current arrangements with your customers and employees with a view to making your business more efficient.

The team will meet you at your convenience at your offices to discuss the process so that we will fully understand how your business works and the factors that affect it. We charge a fixed fee for your review, fees are based upon the size of the business and the level of review you require. Please telephone Stella Yeomans on 01530 412167 to obtain an individual quotation.
